

Rosebud Land Opening.

The Northwestern road is meeting the popular demand for information of the terms under which the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota is to be opened up for settlement by sending out the following authoritative statement:

The land in question comprises 382,000 acres, situated in Gregory county, South Dakota, between the Missouri, Niobrara and White rivers, in the southeastern part of the state, and in the great corn belt of the Missouri valley.

The process of securing a quarter section of these Rosebud lands consists, first of registration, July 5th to July 23d, inclusive; second, the drawing for allotment, July 28th; third, final entry of land, beginning August 8th.

United States Land Registry offices are located at Bonesteel, Fairfax, Yankton and Chamberlain, S. D. In order to register for these lands it is necessary to appear in person at one of these offices for registration sometime between July 5th and July 23d.

Registration cannot be effected through the mails, or by the employment of agents (except in the case of ex-soldiers and sailors). No person will be permitted to register more than once, or in any other than his true name. None but persons qualified to make homestead entry will be permitted to register.

These qualifications are that the applicant does not own more than 160 acres of land in any state or territory; is a citizen of the United States (either made or native) over the age of 21 years, or the head of a family; and intends to make entry and comply with the homestead laws, the land to be for his own use and benefit and not directly or indirectly for any other person. It is also required that the applicant has not since August 30th, 1890, entered under the public land laws of the United States land which with a regular homestead would make more than 320 acres, and has not heretofore perfected or abandoned an entry under the homestead laws.

To the above the following exceptions are permissible: Those who, prior to May 17, 1900, made final five-year proof of a claim in certain Indian reservations opened by act of March 2, 1889; those who have lost or forfeited a homestead entry prior to June 5, 1900, or who have committed a homestead entry and paid the government price for the land prior to that date; those who have relinquished or lost a homestead claim prior to April 28, 1904, receiving no payment or compensation for such relinquishment or loss.

Persons desiring to make a second entry as above, should, before registering, provide themselves with a memorandum giving number and date of former entry, description of the land, date and manner of its disposition or loss.

As soon as registered, each person will be given a certificate which will entitle him to go upon and examine the lands to be opened for settlement, to enable him later to understandingly select the land he desires to enter.

Homesteaders who have commuted

Things Claim Seekers Want to Know.

once may enter second homestead, but cannot commute the second.

The transfer of a registration certificate to another person forfeits all rights therein.

Honorably discharged soldiers or sailors of the civil war, Spanish-American war, or their widows, may appoint an agent to register in their stead, furnishing them with copy of honorable discharge, or other competent evidence of military service. Such agent can act only for himself and for one such client.

Honorably discharged soldiers or sailors, or their widows, may make declaratory statements through an agent holding power of attorney, and must, within six months after so doing, make homestead entry, establish residence upon and cultivate the land for the period of time, which added to their military service, will equal five years (such residence in no case being for less than twelve months).

The drawing to determine the order in which those registered will be permitted to select their land, will be so conducted that no applicant will gain or lose any advantages whatever by reason of the time, place or order of his registration. This drawing will take place at Chamberlain, S. D., on July 28th, continuing until the names of all persons registered have been drawn.

The drawing will be under the supervision and management of the secretary of the interior, through the commissioner of the general land office and a committee appointed by him. Every safeguard to insure fairness will be adopted, and it is not essential that persons registered shall be present at the drawing.

Each applicant will be notified by postal card at the address given by him when he registers, of the drawing of his name, and of the date on which he must present himself for final entry of land, at the land office at Bonesteel, S. D., selection of land and homestead entry therefor being made in the order of drawing, beginning with the applicant who draws number one.

Notice will be sent to those drawing numbers one to one hundred to appear in person at the land office at Bonesteel, S. D., at 9:00 a. m., Monday, August 8th, 1904, to make final entry. Similar notice will be sent to those drawing numbers one hundred and one to two hundred inclusive, to appear in person at Bonesteel, Tuesday, August 9th, and so on at the rate of 100 per day until all the lands are allotted.

If when making entry, any applicant is found to be disqualified, his application will be rejected, notwithstanding his acceptance for registration.

On the date of entry, each applicant must personally present certificate of registration and must make the first payment of $1.00 per acre. This can be done only in person at the United States office at Bonesteel, S. D.

Subsequent payments of 75c per acre must be made at the end of the second, third and fourth years and within six months after the expiration of the fifth year. Default of any of these payments forfeits all right to the land, and entry will be canceled. In addition to this total of $4 per acre, the usual land office fees must be paid, amounting to $14.00.

No fee is required whatever at the time of registration, which is made upon blanks furnished by the United States land office and for the proper execution of which notices and other proper officers will be permitted to make a charge of 25c for each person.

Within six months after making entry the claimant "must establish a residence, in a house on his claim, and thereafter reside continuously upon the land and cultivate the same for the period of five years." At any time after fourteen months of said residence, the entryman may make communication proof upon such entry upon payment of the balance of the purchase price remaining unpaid, together with land office fees and commission, and in addition thereto $1.25 per acre, for the privilege of such communication.

The lands to be allotted contain about 2,400 farms of 160 acres each, situated about 2,200 feet above the sea, in one of the best watered regions of the west, with a healthful invigorating climate, fertile soil and easy means of reaching the world's markets.

Railroads have placed excursion rates in effect daily from all points July 1 to July 22.

The Merry-go-round.

and models are being built in Rockford manufacturing plants.

At the factory of Spengler Brothers, ten of these models are being built under supervision of the inventor, who is a member of the firm of Stevenson & Beck, of Harvard. Each of the models is of steel and highly polished wood, and a perfect representation of the larger "auto merry-go-round."

With the exception of the seats the new machine will be constructed entirely of steel. In the center there will be a high steel rod, from which the remainder of the machine will be swung. Ball and roller bearings are arranged so that when the swing is loaded on one side it will run as easy as though the weight was evenly distributed.

At the side of one of the seats is a small lever, attached to a rod and gear that join the center pole. As this lever is pushed back and forward the "auto merry-go-round," gaining speed because of its roller and ball bearings, will run rapidly around, and only a slight effort is necessary to keep it going. In case of large swings even four of these levers can be put in place to be operated together or separately as desired. According to the plans of the inventor, the machine is to be built in two sizes, one for private lawns, with four seats to accommodate four grown persons or eight children, and for the general public business to have sixteen seats.

Fine awnings and the possibility of adding a music box will make the "auto merry-go-round" even more popular than its predecessor, and the fact that horse, mule and steam engine are dispensed with will allow of its use in many places where it was considered an impossibility before. In speaking of his invention, Mr. Stevenson said: "I think I have a merry-go-round which combines all the pleasant features and eliminates all the bad ones. The merry-go-round goes with little friction, is pushed by the passenger, and is not dangerous. It can be stopped quickly if there is an accident of any kind, much quicker than the old style ones. The principle feature is the fact that I realize that people would rather have the amusement of pushing the machine around than to have a horse of a steam engine do the work."

Thrown From a Wagon

George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best liniment he ever used.
